The Trakehner Horse

is the oldest warmblood breed in the world, dating back to the foundation of the main stud in Trakehnen in Germany in 1732. The origin of the Trakehner horse is the Schwaikie East Prussian Horse crossed with English Thoroughbred and Arabian blood. The result is a Pure Breed with great beauty, and legendary soundness, coupled with wonderful movement and great jumping abilities.

The Trakehner horse has now stamped its mark in all Olympic Disciplines, remaining an outstanding International Sporthorse in its own right as well as a refiner to other Warmblood breeds. Evidence suggests that many of Australia's top horses have Trakehner in their pedigree already, such as Heath Ryans' FEI Grand Prix stallion Regardez Moi who is a quarter Trakehner.

Gribaldi — the legend

The most famous FEI Grand Prix Pure Trakehner Stallion on the international stage today is the legend we all know as Gribaldi. He is not only an FEI Sporthorse in his own right but also the sire of an equally magnificent stallion, the worlds most talented FEI dressage horse Moorlands Totilas.

Noran Abbey Rose

Young Trakehners in Germany are consistent winners of the Bundeschampionate (championship for young horses) in the eventing class due to their excellent all round talent. Grafenstolz (one such young Trakehner stallion) was the first horse ever to qualify in all 3 disciplines.
